Trainings/ Continuous Education

Nursing's Strategic Plan provides vision for advancing nursing practice based on its goals. One of the goals is to develop a collaborative, learning nursing organization. AEH nurses enjoy the benefits and support of working with colleagues and leaders within an environment that values team learning, personal mastery, mental modeling, shared vision and the ability to approach work within a system thinking framework.

Trainings and continuing education enable our nurses to continually update and renew their knowledge and skills, enhance evidence-based practice and ultimately ensure that they are able to meet patient needs and service delivery in a constantly changing practice environment.

About Us

Mission

The Nursing Department at AEH is committed to excellence in nursing care based on research, education, and innovation in professional practice to meet the unique needs of patients and their families.

Vision

The Nursing Department's vision is to be leaders in advancing exemplary professional nursing practice by providing evidence-based quality patient care.

Our Values

We will uphold the values of:

- Excellence
- Compassion
- Respect
- Innovation
- Team work

The philosophy, standards of clinical nursing practice, nursing policies, and procedures of Addu Equatorial Hospital's Nursing Department provide the framework for providing quality, holistic patient-focused evidence-based nursing care. The department is made up of nurses who are dedicated and committed to working together to elevate the level of care and professionalism.

The patient is at the center of the department's model of professional nursing practice, which is based on the core values of compassion, integrity, and collaboration. The practice environment at AEH reflects the hospital's values of combining knowledge, skill, and compassion to create a caring, innovative, and empowering workforce. Patients at AEH are treated holistically and are informed about the latest expertise and management, while nurses take the time to listen and understand their needs and concerns to provide a positive journey to wellness. The department's nurses participate in nursing research, conferences, continuing education, and immersion programs to advance knowledge of nursing practice and healthcare
